

Koziah Ward. The School was continued about five years with much success, numbering at times as high as seventy, the scholars coming from Belleville, Orange, Cranetown and Spertown, even in the coldest weather. One of the scholars, still living, is able to repeat from memory the first two chapters of John's Gospel, which were there learned—no mean acquirement even in these days. After this there was no Colored Sunday school until 1862, when it was organized by Rev. Mr. Hyde, being discontinued during the winter months. Mr. Hyde having joined the Union army, he was succeeded by Mr. Gould, and he by Mr. Wight. In May, 1865, Mr. J. A. Davis, Jr., took charge of the School, and continued as its Superintendent nearly seven years, until January last.

New Jersey-dom.

EDUCATIONAL.—The County Board of Examiners at the examination held in the Public School building in Bloomfield, August 30th, granted certificates to the following candidates:

3d Grade—Miss Mary Geo. Orange; Miss Alice G. Hunt, Montclair; Thomas A. Lillie, Cedar Grove; Miss Mary E. McGlynn, Bloomfield; Mrs. F. A. Pearson, Brookside; Miss Mary E. Quimby, East Orange. 2d Grade—Miss Sarah B. Snow, Belleville; Miss Samantha Wheeler, Bloomfield.

The fall term of the Drew Theological Seminary opened on Thursday, Sept. 19th, with about one hundred students. The school is in excellent condition.

PRES. ANDRUS and Prof. McNitt, of the Indiana Asbury University, were inaugurated at Greencastle, September 11th, with proper ceremonies. The address of Dr. Andrus was on the co-education of the sexes.

The Committee appointed by the Harvard College overseers to consider and report on the admission of females to that institution, recommended that no action be taken on the subject at present.

AMONG FORTHCOMING HISTORICAL WORKS of importance is a new History of New Jersey, from its earliest settlement to the present time, by Mr. John O. Raum, of Trouton. It will make a book of some eight hundred pages.

In the case of M. W. Bennett, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for damages for injuries sustained by the accident at the Newark-avenue crossing in November last, the jury has given a verdict of damages in the sum of $5,000, the full amount claimed.

NEW JERSEY CONGRESSMEN.—The nominations of both parties for members of Congress in New Jersey are now complete, and are as follows:

Democrats.—Oscar A. Clute, Samuel C. Forker, John H. Patterson, Robert Hamilton, Abram B. Woodruff, John M. Randall, Noah D. Taylor.

Republicans.—Samuel A. Dobbin, Amos Clark, Jr., Frederick A. Potts, Wm. Walter Phelps, Marcus L. Ward, Isaac W. Scudder.

NEWARK gives 2,900 Republican majority on City ticket, and elects thirteen Democratic Aldermen, and three Democrats.

FRANK THOMAS, an Italian, residing on Grand-street, Hoboken, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. His wound was dressed, and it was believed he would recover. Domestic trouble caused the act.

BISHOP SMITH, of Kentucky, Presiding Bishop in the Episcopal Church, has taken his home in Hoboken, N. J., as more convenient for the performance of his duties than Louisville.

EDWARD P. VOLLEN, an old resident of Philadelphia, died at Beverly, N. J., September 14th, at the age of 105 years. He was a tanner by trade. He was for eighty years a member of the Methodist Church.

HON. GARRETT DAVIS, U. S. Senator from Kentucky, died, Sunday, September 22d, in the 72d year of his age. He was elected U. S. Senator in 1861, and re-elected to that position in 1866.

A breach of promise suit has been instituted by Mary Frances Wade, against ex-Mayor Kalbfleisch, of Brooklyn. Damages are laid at $150, 000.

Sept. 1st, 1872. HORACE DODD, P. M.

DR. FRANCIS LEBER, Professor of Constitutional History and Political Science in Columbia Law School, died of heart disease October 2d, in his seventy-third year. He was born in Berlin in 1800, and came to the United States in 1827. He published the "Encyclopedia Americana" in thirteen volumes, between 1829 and 1833. He drew up the plan of instruction for Girard College in 1834. He was the author of numerous works on law and social science, was a prominent member of the Union League, and was an active promoter of the free-trade movement.

the Rocky Mountains is from 10,000 to 12,000 feet. This is the mean height of the immense continental sweep of the Cordillera de la Sierra Madre. It is probable that the average height in Colorado, which is the table-land of the continent, will approach very nearly to 12,000 feet.

The Great Beauty of Japanese Scenery.

My first sight of Japan was from the deck of the steamer Great Republic, as we sailed up the Bay of Yokohama. The aspect of the country at once charmed us, and this spell never for a moment lost its power, but rather increased in joy, and now remains a vision fair and beautiful in the mind forever.

The mountain-tops were somewhat bare, but embosomed in this numerous cliffs were woods and temples; and farther down, peaks and crags of every variety, all covered with luxuriant vegetation. Far in the distance, Fujiyama appeared—a strange sight—a mighty cone, fourteen thousand feet high, with its apex above the clouds, covered with snow down to a clear, well-defined line, where there was a dark belt, and then the body of the mountain disappeared; so that the whole thing looked like a white triangle resting in the firmament, or like some great white triangle guardian deity, solemnly, solemnly, but conspicuously watching over the scene.

Our sail through the inland sea was positively absorbing; headland after headland, islands of all sizes and of every description of contour, situated in all directions, and their perpetual recurrence of villages after villages, Dai-niok residences, and all the diversity of hill and dale, high cultivation, and the richness of nature, absolutely chained us to the deck. I have never seen any scenery to match it. The Straits of Anjer, between Java and Sumatra, the Golo passage, the Straits of Singapore, and many others I have sailed through are not for a moment to be compared to it. The harbor of Nagasaki may be said to crown the whole. The entrance on a fine evening is like fairy-land. I have seen no river in the East equal to it for beauty. —Rev. Dr. Williamson.

forms its element. I have seen no river in the East equal to it for beauty. —Rev. Dr. Williamson.
